Email Guidelines Due to the increasing number of emails - I have listed some suggestions below that will help me answer your questions quickly and efficiently and reduce the time taken whilst still giving you the support you need without delay. I really appreciate your support in this!

- · If you have a number of questions, save them up over a week and lay them out in bulleted format
- · Please don't assume that I will remember everything about your case. A few pointers such is always helpful and saves me going through all of your notes
- If you can write your questions succinctly and ideally, answerable with a "yes" or "no."

If you have a lot of questions which will be difficult to answer without clarification then I may advise you to book a 10 minute phone consultation (£20) as we can then deal with all the questions much quicker in conversation or you can also request to book a 10 min phone call by getting in touch with Donna too.
